

Greening Australia

Habitat Conservation and Management Course

Providing an ecological approach to environmental conservation & restoration

The sixteen week course that teaches land management practises to conserve, protect and restore indigenous Australian flora and fauna. The course presents and discusses the best planning tools and management techniques available and includes plant identification, bush ecology, weed control, soils & climate, invertebrates, the use of fire, site assessment and planning, and many more. Presenters include Darcy Duggan, Randall Robinson, George Paras and Gidja Walker.

Date: 8 August – 21 November 2017

Time: Tuesday evenings - 6.30-9.30pm & 8 Saturday fieldtrips – approx. 10.00am-4.00pm

Location: Tuesday evening sessions – La Trobe Wildlife Sanctuary, Saturday fieldtrips – various locations across the Port Phillip region

Cost: NRM Professionals - $2,000, Friends of/Landcare Volunteers - $1,000 (Plus GST, this includes course materials and light refreshments for the evening sessions)

For more information: Andrew Rice (03) 9450 5300 / ARice@greeningaustralia.org.au